FOURTEEN DIE IN SHIPWRECK OFF COSTARICA

Crew Refuses to Desert Lumber Schooner Whisper.

BURNS TO WATER'S EDGE

Other Vessels Stand by to Rescue Sailors, but Are Warned of Danger. Big Gasoline Tank Explodes With Terrific Violence as Men Are on Point of Taking to Small Boats. Carried Cargo of Mahogany From South American Port.

Port Limon, Costa Rica, Sept. 11.—The schooner Whisper, with a cargo of mahogany, burned to the water's edge 100 miles off the Nicaraguan coast and went to the bottom. The entire crew of 14 men were drowned. Captain Winston Hall of Philadelphia was in command of the Whisper.

An explosion of a gasoline tank on board is said to have caused the disaster. Passing vessels, the crews of which witnessed the explosion and later the fire, brought to this port the description of the disaster. The Whisper had several large tanks of gasoline on board and her crew refused to permit would-be rescuers to get within hailing distance, fearing an explosion of the whole mass at any moment. None of the crew was saved.

Advices received here state that a heroic effort was made by Captain Hall and his crew to save the cargo, and it was not until the ship had burned to the water line that the sailors began to look for their own safety. A moment before the charred hull of the schooner went to the bottom the terrific explosion occurred, and when the smoke had cleared away no traces of the ship or of its crew could be seen.

EXTRA LEVY KNOCKED SKYWARD

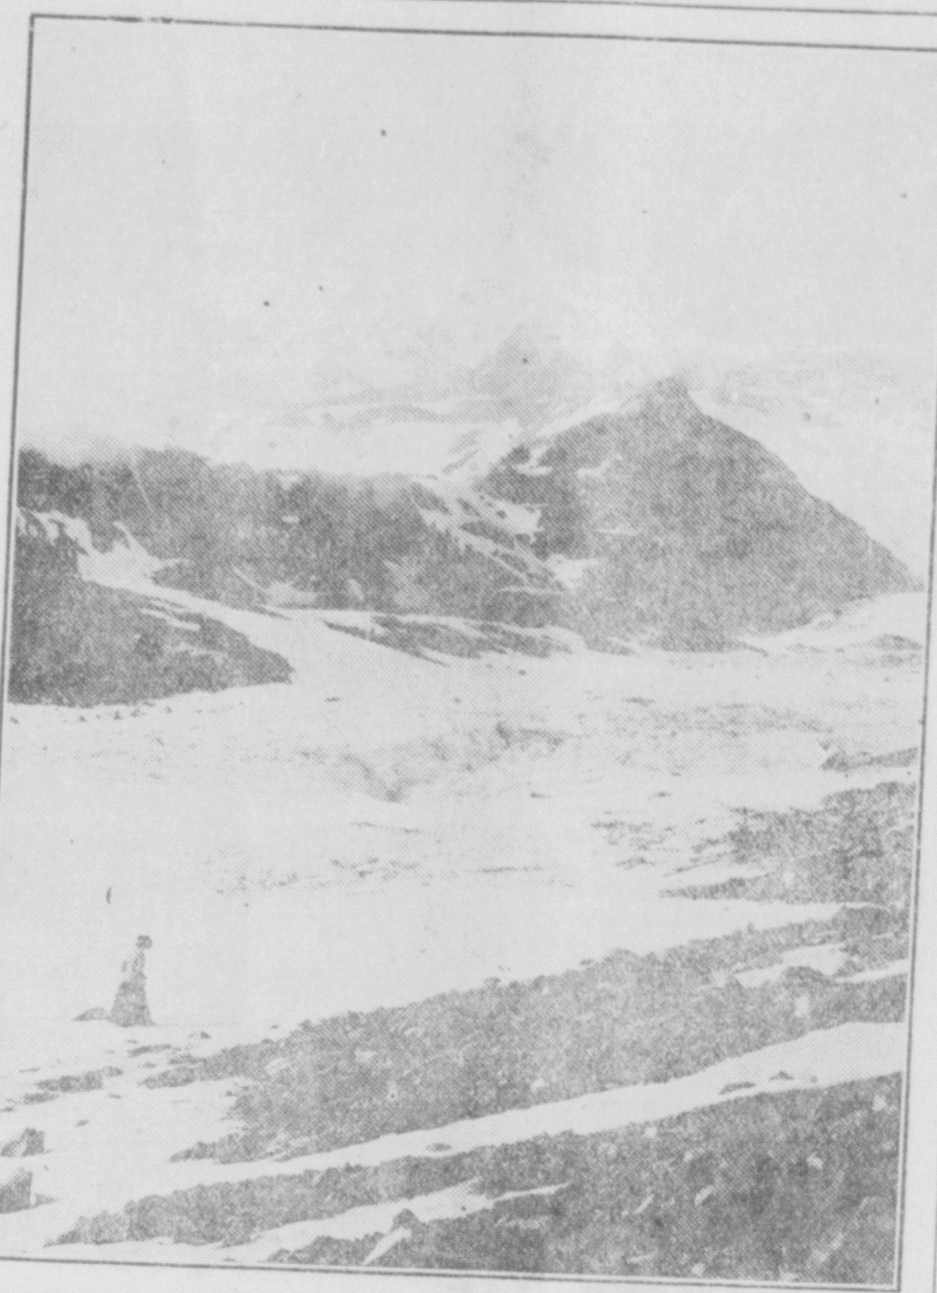

Tax Commission Sets Down Hard on County Officials.

Columbus, O., Sept. 11.—"This thing of county commissioners laying extra levies under the guise of emergencies has got to stop right here, before it begins. If that idea were permitted the commissioners could levy any amount they pleased up to 5 mills," said Judge R. M. Dittey of the state tax commission, in making public the fact that County Auditor M. M. Sayre is not to enter the road repair levy of three-tenths of 1 mill, which the Franklin county commissioners attempted to establish, despite a warning from the state board. The action means that the tax commission has won in the little scrap with the county commissioners. The latter may adopt all the resolutions they please for fixing levies, but the tax commission will tell the county auditor whether or not he shall put them on the books.

The action is of interest to every county in the state and definitely settles the commission's attitude on any attempt to break the bonds of the Smith 1 per cent act.

Member of the Ohio State Tax Commission.

President Taft Plans to Visit Mount Rainier on Western Trip

PRESIDENT TAFT will become a mountain climber during his visit to the northwest, and he will travel part of the way up Mount Rainier, the lofty peak in the state of Washington east of Tacoma and near Puget sound. Mount Rainier is 8,000 feet higher than neighboring peaks, and it has a total altitude of 14,365 feet. President Taft will not go to its summit, though the ascent is fairly easy for a man in good physical condition and is made almost daily by parties during the summer. Mr. Taft will be taken above the dense timber that encircles the base of the mountain and to a point about 6,000 feet high, where there are wonderful alpine meadows and flowers of unusual beauty and of surprising abundance. The Indians called the mountain Takhoma, meaning "Big Snow," and the residents of Tacoma have been bestowed on the peak by Admiral George Vancouver in honor of Admiral Peter Rainier in 1729, when Admiral Vancouver discovered Puget sound. There are twelve primary glaciers moving slowly down the side of the gigantic mountain. One of them is shown in the foreground of the picture with the mountain's summit in the distance. Rainier is of volcanic origin, but has long been inactive, though there are warm spots where the snow melts even in the winter.

CALLS COLONEL ASTOR AN ANARCHIST SAYS MONEY DID IT

BOTH SIDES CLAIMING A VICTORY

Maine is Today Deciding the Fate of Prohibition Law.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Maine is holding a special election today on the repeal of the liquor prohibitory amendment to the state constitution. Both sides concede the cities to be favorable to the repeal, but the probable vote of the rural districts is very much in doubt. Secretary Fessett of the repeal organization claims a majority of from 10,000 to 20,000.

Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, national president of the W. C. T. U., who has been the leader in the fight against repeal, is equally positive that the amendment will be retained.

Philadelphia Preacher Denounces Marriage to Miss Force.

SCOLDS OFFICIATING PASTOR

Rev. George Richmond Declares That Ministry is Fast Losing Its Grip on American Life, Owing to Low Salaries and Cringing to Wealth in Pews—Urges Necessity of Maintaining Moral Standing—Lauds Catholics and Episcopalians.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, the clergyman who denounced the Astor-Force alliance at the time the engagement was announced, condemned the marriage, the minister who performed it and the colonel and his young bride in the following language before his congregation in St. John's Episcopal church: "It was money that did it. This minister was bought; he cringed before cold cash. Congregationalism is a cash religion. Miss Force threw her person, sacred and pure, into the embrace of the degenerate Astor for the sake of money. Mr. Astor maintains his social position through money. The Providence minister was bought by money. Birds of a feather flock together."

The minister, he declared, was a traitor; Colonel Astor he characterized as an anarchist, and said that he did not regard the marriage as really performed.

"The great problem today in our political and social life," said the Rev. Mr. Richmond, "is to maintain the high standards of morality. The present political situation in Philadelphia reveals the sad moral state into which we have fallen. Nationally, the way men of the smart set look on the marriage tie is indicative of how necessary it is to strive to keep up our moral standards."

"When I preached on the Astor-Force wedding a month ago I took that as an illustration of how the scions of our noble families had fallen in morals. Afterward men said everywhere that there is not a clergyman in the country who will dare defy the moral laws to marry these people."

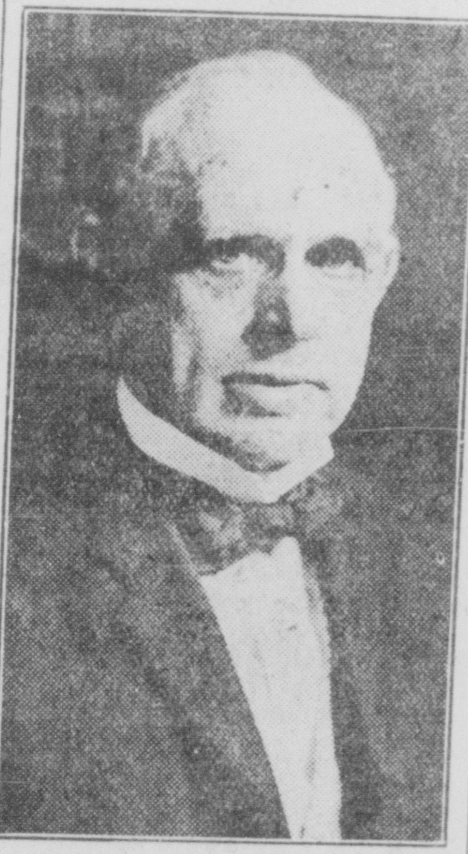

"But we find there is one in the

Motor Cycles Collide

Man Killed, and Father Fatally Hurt Hurrying to His Side.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 11.—Ellis R. Southwick, 33, is dead; his father, E. L. Southwick, is dying, and his cousin, John Southwick, is seriously injured as the result of two accidents within a few hours of each other. Ellis and John Southwick, on their way to see the motorcycle races, collided, the former being killed instantly and the latter, buried under the wreckage of the machines, was found to have been seriously hurt. When the father of Ellis, who was at the races, heard of his son's mishap, he started for home. As he was stepping off a train he fell under the cars, and was removed to a hospital.

Hope Diegle May Yet Confess

Senate Employee May Never Serve His Sentence.

Columbus, O., Sept. 11.—Rodney J. Diegle is still anxious to confess, it is believed. An arrangement for a conference between his counsel and Prosecuting Attorney Turner was talked over.

There is some question as to whether the common pleas court can still further suspend his sentence, the execution of which has been put off until Sept. 18. One of Diegle's attorneys who has been discouraging negotiations for a confession said that the case had been carried on error to the circuit court, and it was now up to that court to say what should be done.

It is generally agreed that Diegle is a long way from the penitentiary. Even if he doesn't gain immunity through a confession his case is likely to drag through the circuit court and possibly the supreme court. His three-year sentence can be reduced to 26 months by good behavior.

Hogan on Temperance Beer. Columbus, O., Sept. 11.—The status of temperance beer is defined by Attorney General Hogan in a ruling given to Prosecuting Attorney T. E. McElhiney of Morgan county. Temperance beer is beer that has no malt. Whether it is intoxicating or not cuts no figure. So-called temperance beers which contain ever so little malt may not be sold in dry territory and if sold in wet territory they are subject to the provisions of the Atkin tax.

Gov. Harmon Denounces President's Tariff Stand

Says President Failed to Heed Voice of People.

Boston, Sept. 11.—As the principal guest and speaker at the Democratic gathering in Faneuil hall, Governor Harmon of Ohio spoke of the tariff situation, placing particular emphasis on President Taft's attitude toward tariff reform. He declared in his address that the president's course in vetoing tariff bills passed Columbus Jeweler Fatally Burned. Columbus, O., Sept. 11.—L. W. Lewis, well-known jeweler, was fatally burned in an explosion at his home when he sought to light a natural gas heater under a water tank. He died later in a hospital. The explosion was due to escaping gas.

Wall Collapses; Two Killed. Cincinnati, O., Sept. 11.—Henry Petering, a contractor, and John Siegmund, a laborer, were killed and three other men were injured by being caught between a collapsing retaining wall and the foundations of a building on Reading Road.

SHOPMEN ARE NOW READY TO QUIT STILL HOPE FOR PEACE CONFERENCE BOARD CONCLUDES WORK

Five States Are Shy

Will Necessitate Change in Perry Centennial Program.

Sandusky, O., Sept. 11.—The cornerstone laying, instead of the dedication of the proposed Perry memorial, will be the feature of Perry's victory and international peace centennial at Put-In-Bay in 1913. This was practically agreed upon by the general commission now assembled at Put-In-Bay.

General Nelson A. Miles directed attention to the fact that but three of the eight states intended to take part in the Perry celebration project had made appearance thus far and that the government's contribution will not be available until each one of these states has taken care of its share of the expense.

Strike Order Has Been Sanctioned by Heads of Unions Forming Federation, but Further Effort Will Be Made to Bring Railway Officials to Deal With Employees as One Body Before It Is Issued—Kline Talks in Optimistic Vein.

San Francisco, Sept. 11.—The conference board of the railroad shopmen concluded its conference here with the final determination to insist upon the railroad's recognition of the federation of shops employees of the Harriman system. The board sanctioned in advance any order that may be issued by the heads of the five international unions involved in the controversy.

China Concentrates Her Troops

China Concentrates Troops.

Peking, Sept. 11.—The Chinese government is concentrating troops on the borders for the purpose of suppressing the alarming disturbances in the province of Sze Chuen if the provincial forces are insufficient in number or prove disloyal. Sixty Canadian Methodist missionaries are among the Cheng Tu refugees. These in all number about 100, of whom 30 are Americans, and nothing has been heard of them for the last four days.

Follows Wife to Grave.

Alliance, O., Sept. 11.—Grieving for his young wife, who died three weeks ago, Lloyd Lemuel, 27, committed suicide here by drinking carbolic acid. Two children, one 17 months old and the other 4 years of age, are made orphans.

STRANGE TYPE OF WOMAN TELLS A STRANGER TALE ANNOYANCE BY RUFFIANS

Alleging that a number of men had robbed her and attempted to assault her while she was sleeping on a pile of ties along the C. A. & C. railroad near New Holland Saturday night, a young woman of limited education and hailing from the backwoods of Kentucky, appeared at a number of residences near New Holland Sunday morning, told her story, and asked for direction to the home of Tom Stewart, a Kentuckian who at one time lived on the Persinger farm six miles east of this city, but who is said to live near Manara at the present time.

The girl was a true type of the backwoods Kentuckian, and was dressed in a gingham wrapper, and instead of wearing her heavy shoes, carried them under her arm. She wore a sunbonnet of flaming red, and carried an old sack containing her few belongings which she had carried from Kentucky with her.

She told the same story to the various persons, stating that she was in search of Tom Stewart, who had given her a home and raised her from a little girl, and she had lost all of her relatives, her husband had deserted her, and she was going to make her home with the Stewart family again.

She made the trip from Cincinnati to New Holland on the evening train, and walking a short distance back up the track, she had found a bed on a pile of railroad ties and fell asleep. She was awakened, according to her story, by a number of men who dragged her from the pile of ties and relieved her of all the money she possessed.

She struggled free from the men and seizing some stones from the roadside she pelted the gang until they fled in haste to prevent the well directed stones from injuring them, and she was not disturbed any more.

Her peculiar rough way of addressing those with whom she came in contact attracted no little attention, and she addressed every man by the term "man" and the women received the name of "woman." She carried a liberal supply of long leaf Kentucky tobacco, and the way she chewed the weed would put an Indian to shame.

The last heard of her she was still looking for "that man, Tom Stewart."

Show Window Loafers Cause Much Annoyance

"That's a nice bunch who have taken possession of your show window" remarked a well known man as he entered a place of business in this city Saturday night, and mentioned the crowd of loafers who were seated in the window apparently trying to see which could spit the most tobacco juice on the sidewalk and at the same time "swap" yarns and make remarks about the ladies as they passed.

In reply to the opening remark, the man did not hesitate to speak very plainly about the crowd of loafers who had taken possession of the little ledge on the window, to make themselves very much at home, and who were completely hiding the attractiveness of the window, and had been doing so for a solid hour.

The habit of loafing in front of display windows where there is a small ledge to form a seat, has caused a great deal of annoyance to many business men, but the practice is on the wane, and if it continues to decrease the next few years as it has in the past, the loafers will recognize the fact that they are trespassing on other people's property, and may probably find other places to idle away the hours instead of annoying the business men by hanging about the window sills like flies around a molasses barrel.

One business man's favorite method of keeping his windows free from the weary, is to pour water around the bottom of the window. He claims this treatment is very effective and never fails to do the work.

FAST TROTTER

LAMED AT FAIR.

Mr. Charles Allen's trotter, Burzean, entered in the 2:22 trot at the Waverly fair last Friday, met with an accident just before the race, and was so badly cut that she will be crippled for some time.

Burzean won third money in the 2:30 trot of Wednesday at the Waverly fair. Mr. Allen also won first with Baron Bond in the roadster show class. Baron Bond was one of the leading prize winners in the show classes of our local fair.

This week Mr. Allen goes to Chillicothe, his horse, Mazda, entered in the 3-year-old trot.

BUYS FINE SWINE.

Mr. Clark Post returned Saturday evening from Wilmington, bringing back for his farm, near town, two extra fine Duroc Jersey swine, purchased from W. P. Baker.

Mr. Post also brought back two ears of corn of the Johnson country white variety, that are astonishing specimens of a perfect ear, and are on exhibition at the Washington Savings bank.

OR STAND THE CONSEQUENCES

More complaint against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. This time it comes from the old stock pens again, and may result in the removal of the stock pens, or the extensive improvement of them, as they are reported to be in a most unsanitary condition.

As most persons are aware, the B. & O. stock pens are located almost opposite the stove factory, and have been the source of considerable complaint for many years, owing to the large number of residences within a short distance of the foul smelling pens.

Another complaint was made Sunday morning, and was to the effect that the stench from the pens was something awful to residents of that section. This complaint was made to Mayor Allen, who, as member of the Health Board made a personal investigation, and found the pens in a worse state than mentioned in the report.

Notice was sent to the B. & O. officials at once, stating that unless

J. A. Franklin of the boilermakers, J. W. Kline, head of the international blacksmiths, J. Buckalew of the machinists, J. D. Crane of the sheet metal workers and M. F. Ryan of the carmen left here for their homes, after declaring that the shopmen's answer to the railroad's refusal to recognize the federation will be issued within the next fortnight from Chicago.

"And we don't leave San Francisco with the idea that peace in this matter is impossible," said Mr. Kline, spokesman for the party. "We hope for peace; we will make another effort, perhaps, to win the Herriman system to our way of thinking. The shopmen have already voted to walk out unless their federation is recognized."

VOGEL'S BIG MINSTREL.

The scenery and stage settings used in John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels, which comes to the Empire on Tuesday, Sept. 12, is said to be the most elaborate and expensive ever used for a similar purpose; the setting is called the Radium Palace, a befitting title, because of the appropriate costumes, and the numerous and powerful calcium and electrical effects used thereon. This is the only setting of the kind in use by a minstrel organization as the cost of same prohibits the average manager from investing the amount of capital required.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Mrs. Ben King and daughter, Miss Florence, were returning from a visit with Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. J. R. Conner, near Jeffersonville, Sunday night, when they had a narrow escape from a bad accident.

Their driving horse, which, although spirited, was supposed to be quite gentle, frightened at an auto within a few miles of this city. The horse swerved violently to the side of the road, throwing out both women.

They were unhurt and the damage done was the breaking of a shaft in three places.

The women pluckily repaired the shaft enough to reach their home.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of this vicinity Sunday was a birthday surprise given for Mr. Evans Hurtt, of the Hess road.

Mr. Hurtt accepted the invitation of Mr. Add Duff to drive to Washington and upon his return was amazed to find fifty relatives and friends assembled on the lawn and greeting him with hearty good wishes. Mr. Hurtt has a host of friends in the county and, had it been generally known his birthday celebration would have been hard to limit.

Everybody brought baskets brimful of good things to eat and an elegant picnic dinner and a royal good time marked the day.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Brown's Drug Store.

HOPE TO OBTAIN RECOGNITION

ORDER SLOW SPEED FOR THE FAST TRAINS

B. & O. OFFICIALS PUT ON NOTICE

All Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern trains must not exceed the speed limit of eight miles per hour while in this city.

This is the order issued by Mayor Allen Monday morning, and goes into effect Tuesday morning. Every train, regardless of schedule must meet the requirements of the order or the conductors will be fined, says the mayor.

This action is due in part to the high rate of speed maintained by most B. & O. trains within the city limits, thirty miles per hour being nothing unusual for the royal blue flyers, making them a constant menace to life and limb. It is also meant to let the officials know that when a justifiable complaint is made by those who represent the city of Washington, that prompt action must be taken to furnish relief, such as the complaint of the stock pens for instance.

Mayor Allen notified the telegraph operator to notify the chief dispatcher and others who were interested in the schedule maintained. The notice was wired to the chief dispatcher at once, but no word had been received yet.

This action is expected to cause a stir in B. & O. circles, as it means a delay of trains, although the ordinance implicitly states that all trains must come to the 8-mile-an-hour speed while in the city, and the action is fully covered by the ordinance it is claimed.

Beginning with Tuesday morning all violators will be notified to appear at the Mayor's office the next time they come through, and if they do not, according to a statement made by Mayor Allen, they will be placed under arrest the following day and upon conviction will be fined accordingly.

Considerable interest attaches to the result of this action, as it is the first time the B. & O. has been called down on speeding for a long time. The law has been enforced against the B. & O. for some time.

Mr. R. A. Robinson, the oldest man born in this city, and associated with Washington's primitive business life, its progress and growth through its most vital years, passed quietly he was deeply interested and from out of his early knowledge the friends of latter days have gleaned much of the happenings which moulded the county seat. His genial, warmhearted disposition led him to take a particular interest in every thing, and made him an entertaining companion.

But it is for his connection with Washington's musical life that Mr. Robinson will be longest remembered. Music was his chief joy; to make Washington the center of musical culture his highest ambition.

For years Mr. Robinson directed the music of Grace church and organized and drilled a large choral society.

The choruses which have so often been the heart of Washington's concerts culminated in the splendidly drilled chorus, which was a dominant feature of Home Coming week, and the concert at Grace church, which was in the nature of a farewell to the fine old "music master."

Mr. Robinson has for two years last past, made his home at the Arlington Hotel in this city. He was born and died within the same square and spent all of his life in Washington C. H.

Mr. Robinson is survived by one sister, Mrs. George B. Gardner of Hillsboro, two sisters, his wife, his only son and a brother having preceded him into the great beyond.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon at Grace M. E. church after which interment will be made in Washington cemetery.

His death was due to heart failure brought on by a complication of troubles and his extreme age.

Died Saturday night at the Arlington Hotel. Was born and spent his entire life of 82 years in Washington. Prominent in early history of city and county.

Into the great beyond Saturday night at 10:40 o'clock.

For week's the death angel had been hovering near and the wonderful vitality which was able to make a fight so strong after more than 82 years was a marvel to watching friends and physicians.

Mr. Robinson was born on the corner of Main and Court, where Katz store now stands. In all the early activities of that erstwhile village

SERIOUS OPERATION.

Dr. P. E. Decatur was taken with a sudden attack of appendicitis Saturday morning and taken at once to the Hodson hospital. His condition was found to be serious and an operation necessary. Dr. McKitterick, of Kenton was called and operated for appendicitis and the gall bladder Sunday morning, a number of physicians assisting.

The patient's condition is critical, although he came out of the operation nicely.

New Water Tank Now a Certainty

A new D. T. & I. water tank is no longer a dream. The material for building the tank is now on the grounds, and within the week, actual work will commence on the new tank, which will be located south of Circle avenue.

The old tank on West Court street will be torn away just as soon as the new one is ready for use.

This action on the part of the road is due to the peremptory command recently sent to headquarters by Mayor Allen, who, with others, has been interested in having the old tank removed, it being a menace to public safety.

A few weeks ago the order was sent to the management that unless work was commenced by Sept. 15th, the old tank would be condemned as unsafe, and torn down. Realizing that the old tank is in a dangerous condition and has been for some time, the superintendent obtained the necessary funds and will construct the new tank without further delay.

Train Kills Sabina Youth

John Cristy, aged 19, of Sabina, was instantly killed Sunday at Reesville, when the Baltimore and Ohio paper train struck him while sitting asleep on the platform of the Reesville station. The young man with two companions had walked to Reesville, intending to catch a train to Cincinnati. His companions, who were also asleep, did not waken until the discovery of Cristy's dead body by passersby.

THE RAILROAD VALUATIONS FAYETTE'S SHARE OF BIG INCREASE WILL BE REVENUE RAISER

The taxable valuation of three of the four railroads which pass through this city, as fixed by the Ohio Tax Commission, is a big boost over the valuations of previous years, and in some instances the roads have been boosted to three times their former value.

The valuation of the C. H. & D. has not been forwarded to County Auditor Henkle, and the other three roads have a combined taxable value of $1,452,830.00, while last year all four roads were taxed on a basis of $460,113. This indicates the great increase made over preceding years.

The B. & O. S. W. has 21.10 miles of track, and 4,372 miles of sidings in Fayette county, with a value of $678,570 against $225,683 last year.

Of the main track, 1.55 miles, and 2,469 miles of siding are in the city limits. The property within the city is listed at $74,440.

The C. A. & C. has 17.29 miles of main track and 4,01 miles of sidings in the county. The total valuation is $378,580, while last year it was only $156,336. Within the city the road has 2.14 miles of main track, and 3.15 miles of sidings, with a total value of $64,770. The road also owns 2,236 acres of real estate with a value of $5,280, within the city limits.

The D. T. & I. was also given a big boost from $195,713 last year to $395,680 this year. This road has 27.957 miles of track within the county, and 4,666 miles of sidings, besides 12,120 miles of branch track, (Grasshopper division) and 1,197 miles of branch sidings. Of the entire amount, 1,330 miles of main track are within the city, and 1,028 miles of sidings. The city property is valued at $103,420.

The Grasshopper branch has a valuation of about $3,000 per mile. Figures on the C. H. & D. are expected within a short time. Last year the C. H. & D. was taxed on a valuation of $222,381, and this year this will probably be increased to more than $625,000.

THIRTEEN YEARS AGO Masonic Temple WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Thirteen years ago today, on the 11th of September, 1898, the handsome new Masonic temple, completed but 9 months, went up in smoke and bursting flames, and hundreds of horror stricken people watched the holocaust powerless to check the ravages.

But few of our people will fail to remember the continuous pealing of the fire bells that Sunday noon, between 12 and 1 o'clock.

Many were returning from church and others rushed from their homes when the clanging bell kept up its summons.

The new Masonic Temple was Washington's pride and the beautiful Stutson store occupying the entire first floor, a metropolitan department store that delighted the community.

The streets and court house square were black with people, and the excitement reached the high water mark as the flames leapt heavenward and with a great roar, the burning upper stories crashed in.

The origin of the fire remains today an unsolved riddle. It was first discovered by the volumes of smoke that poured out of the building and the Stutson store. Firemen worked like Trojans, but within 2 and 3 hours the building was in ruins, with only the walls of the first story standing and the interior of the Stutson store a mass of debris.

But like the fabled Phoenix a new temple arose from the ashes, and the fire proved a blessing in horrible disguise.

The new temple was far larger and handsomer than the first one erected. It was much finer in its furnishings and more complete in arrangement and was completed with amazing rapidity in the following spring.

While at first the loss to Mr. Stutson and his enormous stocks was appalling, the greatly increased size of the later built store with its much handsomer furnishings and better light, gave opportunity for a display of stocks that was not possible in the lower floor of the first temple, and today the Stutson store is one of the finest in this section of the state, and far excels what its scope could have been in the first temple.

IN THE NEW COUNTRY.

Requirements that have never been named anywhere in the United States or in the Dominion of Canada by a board of trustees looking after the welfare of the little red school house, are exacted in the Gordon district, Shoshone county, Idaho, where the teacher qualifying for the position must have four or more children. There is a legal reason for this stipulation, which means there is only one child of school age in the district.

The law requires the enrollment shall be not less than five. The district mentioned which is in the heart of the richest lead and silver producing country in the world, boasts of a new and fully equipped school house, a modern library and $4,000 in surplus funds. The salary attached to the position is $100. The district must lapse if the requirements are not carried out, and, as a last resort, the trustees are searching for a teacher to supply the pupils.

The Gordon district has been a sort of a family community for years. The children of two couples composed the enrollment until recently, when one family moved to another part of the Northwest, leaving one family head, his child, a teacher and two mining prospectors behind. The family which moved away has four children. Four children of school age are needed to take their places at once, else the school district will be abolished.

The trustees are in a quandary. They have sent out scouts to find a capable woman with sufficient family to make up the roll call, but so far none has qualified. They now appear ready to crowd youth and beauty and even a certain amount of efficiency into the background in an effort to perpetuate the district school.

Savings Banks

Method of Insurance Would Relieve the Public

By JOHN F. TOBIN

THE subject of the advantages of savings bank insurance for labor unions is going to emphasize strongly the necessity of making provisions such as are contemplated in savings bank life insurance and annuities in determining the cost of living and what is known as fair wages.

I see no reason why the encouragement and promotion of this method of insurance will not, in a great measure, relieve the general public both from taxation and from voluntary contributions to assist those who, by reason of age and the infirmities going with age, have not been provided for or who have themselves not provided for what is known as the rainy day and have become a public charge.

I believe such insurance will do much to promote thrift and stimulate a desire to provide at least some measure of independence against the infirmities of age because of the inherent human desire to escape the humiliation of being a public charge. It is not the mere amount which may be provided by a savings bank life insurance and annuity policy that should be measured in this connection, but the fact that the practice of such economy as is necessary in this connection will lead to other economies which will enhance and promote savings against the period of old age, and also that trade union work will embrace this form of insurance as an important and necessary part in the consideration of all questions affecting wages.

I look forward hopefully to the time when the trade union and each of its local branches will become recruiting stations, not alone in Massachusetts, but in other states in the Union, for the promotion of this form of insurance among its membership. The existing machinery in trade unions now having sick, death and other benefits is such as to make the promotion of savings bank life insurance a simple matter and a most effective agency in promoting that spirit of self-help and self-reliance which results from active participation in the work of the labor movement.

While trade union provision for sick, death and other benefits furnish a reasonable degree of security which may safely be said to be superior in stability to ordinary life insurance, it is still subject to the vicissitudes that beset trade unions. Savings bank insurance, on the other hand, furnishes all the security and stability of the savings bank, which is surrounded by competent official supervision and legislative protection, wherein the funds of the institutions are invested in selected securities which make them secure against loss.

I believe it is entirely feasible and within the scope of the law for local unions to act as agencies for savings banks in securing membership in its savings bank insurance department. It is not an uncommon practice in trade unions to set aside a portion of the local funds for the payment of benefits to out-of-work members, to sick and destitute members, and I see no reason why funds of the local union might not be applied in the direction of protecting insured members in the payment of their premiums so as to perpetuate the insurance and encourage the membership to take an interest in and become participants in the benefits to be derived from such insurance.

POETRY FOR TODAY

TO ARCADY.

Come, tired soul, to Arcady
And hear the fountain singing.
The fountain knows as much as we;
Who sees what angels tend it?
It has a brave philosophy,
In ecstasy unspringing.

It sings whatever the weather be,
Its days are calm and even;
Its nights are sweet with mystery—
Of perfume from the meadow;
Of moon and stars and shadow;
And though it smiles old earth to see
It still aspires to heaven.

O lovely land of Arcady,
With sun and fountain streaming,
Set all our prisoned fancies free,
That we like children roaming
May yet to thee be homing
With song of fairy rhapsody,
And hearts divinely dreaming!
—Louise Morgan Hill in Harper's Weekly.

Harmon Denounces

by the special session of congress indicated that he had been handed a wrong tip by his friends and political advisers. Speaking of the president's objections to these bills, he said: "These and other marks of maternity suggest the question whether the vetoes may not have been adopted off-spring, like the defense of Ballinger." The speaker pointed to the fact that the people had elected a Democratic house and accomplished as much as possible in the way of reducing the Republican majority in the senate as proof that they had taken President Taft at his word when two years ago he told the people that if they did not like the Payne-Aldrich-Smoot tariff bill which he had just signed and pronounced the best tariff bill ever passed, they ought to vote the Democratic ticket. He ventured the opinion that the president should have felt called upon to obey the plain and emphatic demand of the voters last fall, instead of taking up the old idea of reciprocity and confining it to Canada alone.

The Democratic party, Mr. Harmon said, has always believed in reciprocity with all nations, so far as our need of revenue will permit. But in applying the principle of reciprocity, as in everything else, he said, Democrats insist on fair treatment to all on the basis of equal rights and privileges. The agreement which the president had made with Canada applied chiefly to agricultural products. The farmers of the country being scattered, unorganized and represented, if at all, by men lacking the skill and reach which others bring to bear in their own behalf, got the worst of it, as usual. They were the first to be put outside the pale of "protection" for their products whose benefits have so long been alluringly held before them. But they were left to go on paying protective prices for what they have to buy, just the same as ever. And to emphasize the discrimination wheat was freed of duty, while flour was not.

The "No Breakfast" Fad

No faddist is so "set" as a food faddist. Here is held dear the "precious right of private haziness." There is no other fad that saps more energy than the "no breakfast" plan. One of the strongest arguments against it is the necessity which it entails of a hearty meal at the noon hour when time and energy are at a premium for the accomplishment of work aside from digestion.

Praise and Encouragement

In helping to train a family of five boys I had the greatest difficulty inculcating an idea of politeness or even the necessity for it. "Oh, what's the use?" I heard where I had been particularly emphatic in insisting on good manners.

Their father was a polite man—exceedingly easy and polished in his bearing, and they associated with children of the best families in town. All this proved unavailing.

One day I was looking out of my window and chanced to see one of the younger boys, eight years old, put his hand to his cap as some ladies passed him. I confidently believed it was accidental, but spoke of it casually, letting him think I believed he did so habitually. It was the same when he came into my sitting room and took off his hat to fan with. I noticed his politeness—saying how pleased I was at his thoughtfulness, and there was never any more trouble on that score. He, and the others, from the force of suggestion and a sense of rivalry, never failed to remove their caps on proper occasions, politely and not grudgingly as of old, as though yielding to superior force.

Q.—Jephthah made a vow (see Judges xi, 30-40) which led him to burn his only daughter as a burnt offering. Can we believe that a just God approved this?

Answer.—God's law expressly prohibited human sacrifices. (See Deuteronomy xii, 30, 31.) Besides, Jephthah did not burn his daughter as a sacrifice. Our Common Version translation of the Scripture you cite is misleading. The original properly translated reads: "It shall be that whoever comes forth of the doors of my house to meet me, when I return in peace, from the children of Ammon, shall surely be Jehovah's, and I will offer to Him (Jehovah) a burnt offering." Jephthah's vow meant that his daughter, who met him on his return, should be devoted to the Lord's service as Hannah dedicated Samuel, and that Jephthah would offer to the Lord a burnt offering. Every Jewish woman hoped to be the mother of the Messiah. For a virgin this would seem impossible. Jephthah's daughter's dedication to the Lord meant that she must forever remain a virgin. In proof of this the account reads, "and she went forth to bewail her virginity." "She returned unto her father, who did with her according to his vow which he had vowed, and she knew no man" (remained a virgin). After that it became a custom for the daughters of Israel to go once each year and spend four days in lamenting with, or consoling, this daughter of Jephthah (see verses 39, 40).

Farmers Catch Alleged Thieves.

Marion, O., Sept. 11.—Four boys, each under 17, believed by the police to be members of a gang that has committed at least 15 burglaries in the farming community around Marion, and also many burglaries in the city, were captured by several Marion county farmers whose homes have been robbed. Carl Buertche and Thurman Huntsman were captured three miles south of the city. George Parker and Albert McWhorter were captured several miles east of the city. The boys had large sums of money in their possession.

BOOK REVIEWS.

We rarely notice any new books but the great work by Professor Bugghaus of Gesundheit University, which is entitled "Der Evolutionischemeldreusmityahwohl" is one that can't be passed up in silence. In this profound, most erudite treatise, from which we take the accompanying horrid illustration, Prof. Bugghaus proves that Mankind will gradually evolve into a being that looks like this!

He shows that dodging automobiles and aeroplanes will prodigiously develop the eyes, ears, necks and legs of human beings until they are perfectly adapted to prevailing conditions and thus enable the race to survive until the earth's supply of gasoline is exhausted.

FLEES ON DOG? VACUUM-CLEANER WILL KILL 'EM

WASHINGTON, (Special)—Is your dog covered with fleas? Does the family cat sit around all day making futile and ineffectual stabs with its hind legs at inaccessible places on its anatomy in an effort to catch elusive foes? Do the other four-legged animals that belong to the family also give evidence of being inhabited by the biting parasites? Then use a vacuum cleaner!

All the dog soap and cat soap on the market is worthless when compared to the common or garden variety of vacuum cleaner, according to a statement of C. Barnwell Robinson, dean of the United States College of Veterinary Surgery of this city. The doctor has been experimenting for years in a vain effort to rid "Pediculus," the surgery's pet cat, of the numerous fleas which bothered her.

The other day while a vacuum cleaner was being used to withdraw the surplus dirt from the floor of the animal hospital, one of the attendants playfully ran the nozzle over the cat's back. At first the feline resented the attack, but, upon second thought she stayed and the operation was renewed. It was found that a large number of fleas that had found a resting place in "Pediculus" fur had been killed by the application of the cleaner. From that time on, Dr. Robinson veraciously asserts that the cat voluntarily backs up to the cleaner to receive her daily dry bath.

Dr. Robinson has found that the vacuum apparatus is a great success as a flea exterminator and he intends to spread the news broadcast so that all other animal owners—as well as the animals themselves—may profit by the accidental discovery.

Thunderstorms Curious Facts Concerning Them

"THE MORE THUNDER IN May, the less in August," is a very old weather saw, and as the past May has been about the hottest and most thunderstorms on record, it is one which we all devoutly hope will come true.

There are very few places in the East and New England which escaped the violent thunder storms of the recent hot spell. Many places had such storms two or three days running.

These storms vary immensely in size, intensity, and in the length of time which they last. Sometimes quite a small storm, a cloud which covers no more than twenty square miles, will travel almost across the whole breadth of the United States but, as a rule, an electric storm exhausts its violence before it has moved very far.

Careful calculations prove that thunder storms travel at an average rate of twenty miles an hour. Observations of one-hundred and ninety-seven different storms occurring in Southern Russia show that there the average speed at which they advance is a little over twenty-eight miles an hour.

So far as number of thunderstorms goes, we get off very cheaply compared with most European countries. Italy has the unenviable record of being more severely scourged by lightning than any other country. The yearly average of thundery days at any place in Italy is thirty-eight. Southern Austria follows with twenty-three. In Germany, taken as a whole each place may expect nineteen thunderstorms yearly, while in Southern Russia the annual average is sixteen.

We speak here of perceptible storms. In towns a thunderstorm of the lesser order often passes unnoticed, rendered inaudible by the noise and bustle of the city.

For instance, Paris used to be credited with thirteen storms yearly, but since the erection of the observatory in the Parc de Monceau it has been found that the actual number is no fewer than twenty-seven.

Thunderstorms never occur in the Arctic regions, and even the north of Scotland very seldom suffers from such a visitation. The nearer you get to the Equator the more frequent and severe are the electric manifestations. In parts of Central Africa the average of thundery days rises to the astonishing total of two hundred and fifty per annum.

Yet there are curious exceptions. In Java and Sumatra, both intensely hot climates, there are but ninety-two storms yearly, and in Borneo only fifty.

The Gold Coast of Africa has only sixty a year, which is less than occurs in Florida, though the latter is outside the tropics.

In Jamaica there is a thunderstorm every day during the rainy season which lasts for five months. These storms almost always occur between midday and 3 in the afternoon.

Perhaps the most astounding fact with regard to thunderstorms is that the island of Mauritius, which is only 550 miles east of Madagascar, has, on an average, only one thunderstorm in eighty years. Yet in Madagascar lightning is more destructive than anywhere else in the world, the annual death roll being over 300.

OUR CLASSIFIED WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM

REAL BAD WORDS ARE EXCHANGED IN PARLIAMENT

English Lawmakers Fall Out While Discussing Veto Bill.

LONDON—(Special)—"Is it true," writes one F. Gale to the London Star, "that Jack Johnson is to be offered a place in the next Unionist administration, on the ground that his abilities will find in the House of Commons a wider scope than in the more restricted arena of the prize ring?"

The Star doesn't answer this question. It merely prints it on its editorial page.

Of course the insinuation is that Tory methods in the Commons have been such of late as to suggest prize fighting. Now, it isn't true that there has been any actual slugging in the British National legislature but it is a fact that the language of the Conservative debaters has indulged in couldn't be used out loud on the street without getting the people responsible for it locked up.

The scene which occurred not long ago, when Premier Asquith undertook to tell the Commons what the Liberal ministry meant to do about depriving the Lords of their veto power, has never been accurately described for the reason that the details couldn't be printed. For forty minutes, the Conservatives—not all of them but a good many—kept up a continued clamor to prevent the Premier from being heard. They succeeded too. The Premier had to sit down without making his speech.

But it wasn't so much the noise the disturbers made that was disgraceful as the things they called the Premier. "Traitor" and "dirty cad" were among the mildest of their expressions. They used others that wouldn't be allowed to pass through the mails. And they yelled them as loudly as they could shriek. It was really a most disgraceful exhibition for a legislative body which prides itself on the decorous way in which it says it does business. The Tories also always refer to themselves as the "gentlemen's party."

Lord Hugh Cecil—he is only courtesy lord and consequently can't sit in the upper house—led in the demonstration. "It is not time," said the London Leader, the next day, "that plain language was used about Lord Hugh Cecil? He seems to think he can come down to the Commons, insult anyone and everyone, insult the whole institution, and yet if one begins to tell the truth about this lord, there is an outcry of 'No personalities!'"

"The fact is, one might as well state in print that which is said continually in private—if you scratch a Cecil you will discover a boomer."

"Boomer" is English for a conceited, blockheaded, insufferable boor. It is rather strong language to apply to members of one of the most aristocratic families in England—the Marquis of Salisbury is its head—but the British, on both sides of the controversy, are losing all control of themselves in their excitement over the "lords' veto bill."

MUCH MONEY LEAVES PORTUGAL WITH REFUGEES

Secret Society Which Led Revolution Still Is Per-niciously Active.

BADAJOSZ—(Spl.)—More people have fled from Portugal within the last few days than in all the time since the monarchy was overturned and the present republic established there.

The flights are due to fear of the Carbonarios, the secret society which engineered the revolution and is still politically supreme throughout Portugal.

Angered by recent activity on the monarchists' part, the members of this organization have recently been perpetrating a series of the most brutal outrages upon large numbers of people either known to be or suspected of being monarchist sympathizers.

Houses have been burned, scores of people have been assaulted and assassinations have been of frequent occurrence.

The refugees are mostly people of wealth and position and the amount of money they are smuggling out of the country with them is so large as to threaten serious national financial embarrassment.

British Statesman Has Strenuous Life

Premier Asquith.

As leader of the Liberal party, the head of the English cabinet emerged from the struggle over the veto bill only to be involved in a still more complicated matter of state, the general strike or railroad and other transportation laborers of the United Kingdom. From the very beginning he was active in efforts to secure a settlement.

His original proposition for a settlement by arbitration was rejected by employees, although the railroad workers were willing to accept it. He then suggested a royal commission, composed of one representative of the employers, one of the employees and some prominent men of well known impartiality. This also was rejected but eventually an agreement was reached to submit the whole controversy to arbitration, the laborers to at once resume work to await findings of the arbiters.

Knife Cleaning Board

A good knife cleaning board is made by taking a piece of board ten inches long and six inches wide. Tack onto this a piece of brussels carpet and sprinkle with fine emery. Rub knives on this, which process will clean the knives well and with little labor.

Raspberry Mint

To one quart of lemonade, add one-half cupful of raspberries and the leaves of a sprig of mint. Chill for two hours and serve in tall glasses, each of which is garnished with a floating sprig of mint.

Chili Sauce

Thirty-eight ripe tomatoes, twelve large onions, ten green peppers, three cups sugar, one pint vinegar, one-quarter cup salt. Wash and slice tomatoes and onions, remove seeds from peppers and cut peppers in small pieces, add other ingredients, mix well and boil about two and a half hours.

Spiced Tomato Sauce

Melt a lump of butter size of a nutmeg, and pour in one cupful of tomatoes. Add salt to a pinch of cayenne, slice of onion, a dust of flour, and a pinch of ground cloves and cinnamon. Stew slowly one hour, then strain and add a teaspoonful of vinegar. This is delicious on meats.

Tomato Marmalade

One quart of ripe tomatoes skinned and sliced. Put on stove with half a cupful of cider vinegar, one-third of a cup of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of mixed spices; cook slowly and stir often with a wooden spoon. When reduced to one-half it is done. Put in tumblers and cover with branded paper.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY (Liquid)

Is a great medicine of proven value for both acute and chronic kidney and bladder ailments and for annoying urinary irregularities. It is especially recommended to elderly people for its wonderful tonic and reconstructive qualities, and the permanent relief and comfort it gives them. L. McConnell, 117 Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., says: "Five bottles did the work for me most effectively and beyond doubt Foley's Kidney Remedy is the most reliable kidney medicine ever made." Blackmer & Tanquary.

Webster Holds Job. Columbus, O., Sept. 10.—The Ohio board of administration has ordered Colonel Walton Weber to continue temporarily as commandant of the Madison home for soldiers their wives and mothers, because informed by Attorney General Hogan that the election by the Madison trustees last month of O. CHARACTER READING.

"I often think you can tell people's character by their gardens."

"I do, too. There's Miss Matchit, who is as mercenary as she can be, and the prominent plants in her gardens are moneywort, and marry gold."

Boiling Jelly

Grease the top of inside of vessel in which jelly is to be boiled for about one inch with lard, and the contents of the vessel will not boil over. Jelly should boil fast and in wide topped vessel.

A GREAT ADVANTAGE TO WORKING MEN.

J. A. Maple, 125 S. 7th St., Steubenville, O., says: "For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." Blackmer & Tanquary.

A HARD STRUGGLE
IN BOTH DISTRICTS
CANDIDATES CLOSEClever Candidates Are Gathering
a Bundle of Votes

ALL ARE WORKING HARD

During the Big Vote Offer

One of the most exciting races in the Register-Herald's contest is among the candidates in the first district. All these candidates have hosts of strong supporters who are determined that their favorite shall win.

A rumor has reached this office recently which can scarcely be without some foundation, to the effect that a certain candidate has been quietly at work getting together a bundle of votes which would make a marked change in the aspect of the contest when they are cast. The wily candidate who is storing up reserve ballots requires careful watching and it behooves all to be on the alert lest a dark horse pull to the front and take the big prize.

A large number of ballots, from the Register and Herald are being cast every day, showing the interest subscribers are taking in the contest. When it is borne in mind that a year's subscription booms one's standing more than much weary clipping of coupons, it will be seen that a clever candidate who induces her friends not only to clip the coupons but to pay up in advance, is killing two birds with one stone.

The contest is now a little more than half finished, but the most active part of the struggle lies ahead. Steady plodding now, keeping to the front every minute will do away with the necessity of a spurt at the conclusion.

Extra Votes for Old Subscriptions

From Thursday, September 7th to Thursday, Sept. 14th at 5:30 p. m., extra votes for Old Subscriptions will be given as follows:

For $15.00 in Old Subscriptions, 10,000 extra votes will be given.
For $30.00 in Old Subscriptions, 25,000 extra votes will be given.
For $45.00 in Old Subscriptions, 45,000 extra votes will be given.
For $60.00 in Old Subscriptions, 70,000 extra votes will be given.

These extra votes will be allowed besides the regular number given for each subscription and should not be confused with the Double Vote Offer for subscription for $2.00 or more which closes Sept. 16th.

Attention, Contestants

Your attention is hereby called to the Great Double Vote offer which began Saturday Sept. 2, and lasts until the evening of Saturday, September 16.

The big double vote offer above mentioned has been inaugurated for the purpose of allowing hustling candidates "to do big things." It is possible under this offer for contestants to show to advantage just what they are capable of doing in an effort to capture the elegant prizes.

Contestants will bear in mind that this double vote offer does not effect the other offers now in force, or yet to be made, but is in addition thereto.

Below we publish for your guidance the complete double vote offer which will be in force and effect during this period. Examine it carefully in order that you may fully acquaint yourselves with its importance.

Please note that there is no increase in the number of votes given on $1.00 subscriptions to either the Register or Herald. To secure the benefit of the Great Double Vote Offer, subscriptions to the Register, new or old, must cover two years, and to the Herald, must cover at least six months. The longer the time on either paper, the larger the vote.

$75 Diamond Ring.
$40 Haviland & Co. China Dinner Set.

WHO ARE ELIGIBLE.

Any lady or gentleman living in Washington or in Fayette or adjoining counties will be eligible to enter the great contest.

HOW TO ENTER CONTEST.

It costs you absolutely nothing to enter the contest. All that is necessary is for you or one of your friends to cut a nomination blank from the Ohio State Register or Washington Daily Herald, fill it out with your name or that of a friend and mail or bring it to the Contest Manager at the Register-Herald office; that will start you in the contest with 500 votes. You may also clip the vote coupons which will be found in this issue and that will count you 100 more votes.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO.

The person who receives the largest number of votes in the entire contest will receive the Schaff Bros. Player Piano. The person who receives the second highest number of votes will receive the H. Link & Son Upright Piano with this restriction, that if the player piano is won in district No. 1, the upright piano must be awarded to the opposite district, or vice versa. In this way one of the grand prizes will be won in Washington and one outside of Washington. After the grand prizes have been awarded, the names of the winners will be stricken from the list and the 1st prize. The same plan will be used holders of the first places will then be given the prizes known as District in awarding the District 2d prizes.

Remember, three prizes will be given to each district, and each and every candidate will receive a square deal. One district will not have the advantage over another. District No. 1 will receive a grand prize and two district prizes. District No. 2 will also receive a grand prize and two district prizes.

Address all communications to the Contest Manager, Register-Herald, Washington C. H., Ohio. See the Contest Manager for instructions and all details of the contest.

An Anarchist

crowd, the pastor of the Elmwood Congregational church in Providence. He has proved himself a traitor to these high ideals. His act is a smirch on American Christianity.

Preachers Lose Grip.

"The clerical profession has lost its hold on our American life today through its poverty, owing to its low salaries and to its continual cringing before the wealth in our pews.

"Mr. Astor to my mind is the greatest anarchist now within our national boundaries. He is worse than Emma Goldman or Berkman. These persons the police can control; poor and without social position, they are driven from place to place. But Astor on his yacht with his monkey shows or driving about in his automobile even elicits the applause of certain editors and calls sympathy from some of the clergy. No ordinary man would dare defy the laws of New York state as he has done.

"During all this discussion the position of the Roman Catholic church regarding divorce has been clearly understood. We know where to find the Roman Catholic church on this question. So, too, we are proud of the Episcopal church; we still have our canon in regard to marriage to exemplify the Christian doctrine.

"There is call today for stronger church doctrine and government. Only churches with canon law behind them have a real claim to national leadership. We don't need more liberty; nor have we any need of more freedom of thought. But we do need sterner leadership."

BATTLED FOR TEN INNINGS
IN A LONG, SLOPPY GAME
STARS LEAVE FOR SCHOOL

The ball game yesterday afternoon at Millwood park between the Dayton Peerless team and the local team, was in perfect harmony with the condition of the diamond—sloppy.

Outside and inside there was a good big crowd in attendance. That portion of the crowd which remained on the outside and held on tight to its price of admission seemed to take keen satisfaction in rooting against the home team, showing in the same performance the patriotism and the liberality of the people who composed it.

But speaking of the game—it was with the exception of the fielding of Noon and Teevens, both of whom made fine running catches of difficult long flies, the hitting of Passmore, the catching and hitting of the visiting backstop, practically featureless.

Washington had the game clinched, 9 to 3 until the 6th inning, when wretched fielding by Passmore and Judy allowed a cluster of runs to trickle over the pan and the score was tied and remained tied until the 10th inning, when darkness put an end to the battling.

Hagerty and Reed played their last game with the locals for this season as both leave for school in a few days.

Hoblitzel Wins Second Game For Reds from Cubs.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Hoblitzel waited until the bases were full in the game between the Cubs and Reds and then drove the ball over the right-field fence for the second time in two days. Four runs resulted, and Hoblitzel had taken two games from the Cubs in as many days. The final score of the game was 8 to 3 in favor of the Reds, which shows that Hoblitzel's smash was not responsible for all the runs.

Claims Entire Site
Of Wilmington

Property owners in Wilmington, Clinton county, are somewhat uneasy over the report that the entire site of the town is claimed as the property of an Idaho woman, heiress of a former owner of the land.

The dispatch sent out from Spokane, Wash., says: "One thousand acres of land in Ohio, including the entire site of Wilmington, a town of 3500 inhabitants, is claimed by Mrs. Margaret Ray, of Moscow, Idaho, as her property. Mrs. Ray has now placed her claim in the hands of a Spokane attorney.

Mrs. Ray, who is 70 years old, claims to be the granddaughter of Thomas Shaw, who served in the American revolution and took the Ohio land in part payment for his services in that war."

Uses Coal Oil
Burned to Death
Same Old Tale

While using a can of kerosene to kindle a fire, Mrs. Harley Thompson, living in Ross county on the Wissler farm, was fatally burned when the kerosene exploded, and died within a few hours, while her husband who was ill with typhoid fever, went to her assistance and was seriously if not fatally burned. Neighbors extinguished the flames.

It was the same old story of a smoldering ember which ignited the dangerous fluid while the woman was pouring it into the stove to hurry the fire, and the entire can full exploded, throwing the burning oil all over the woman, and burning her almost to a crisp.

People who allow property to remain vacant, things to be lost, or articles for which they have no use to remain on their hands are standing in their own light. A few words in the classified column will convince the most skeptical that this means of communication with the people is a "hummer." It brings results.

Strike
Order
May Be Refused

Chicago Sept. 11.—The executive board of the International Association of Machinists, in session in the Briggs House, refused to sanction a strike of the men on the Illinois Central railroad. The action of the machinists, it was said, has effectually ended the strike agitation, unless the men take matters into their own hands and walk out, which was said to be improbable.

Body of 17-Year-Old Girl Shows Evidence of Foul Play.
Hendersonville, N. C., Sept. 11.—The finding of the bruised and scarred body of 17-year-old Myrie Hawkins in a lake near here is expected to result in revealing one of the most sensational tragedies in the history of the state. On the face and head were deep bruises, and while the coroner's jury verdict was death by unknown means, it was stated there is evidence the girl died before her body got into the lake. She had been missing since Thursday, when she left home to do some shopping.

First Grand Prize 2nd Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

This beautiful Player Piano will be given to the person having the largest number of votes in the Register-Herald's Great Voting Contest, and was bought of J. A. Smalley, who will shortly have the instrument on exhibition at his store-room on West Court St., next door to the T. C. DeWees photo gallery, also in Exhibition hall at the County Fair next week.

This player piano carries with it an unlimited warranty and is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind, making it possible for a child to operate it and play any style of music, from ragtime to the most classical.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWeese photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered maple-lined mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.
